

What is a supporting congregation?

Supporting congregations are congregations in the LCMS who make Luther Classical College one of their congregation's missions, committing to up to four years of support.

Supporting congregations will receive regular newsletters, updating the congregation on the progress being made with the college.

Four times a year, supporting congregations will receive ten issues of Christian Culture: A Magazine for Lutherans, the journal of Luther Classical College.

Supporting congregations will be investing in the future of our children, our congregations, and the health of our synod.

How much does Luther Classical College need to raise?

Luther Classical College does not want to go into burdensome debt, since a college's debt will only be handed down to students in higher tuition. Our goal of $16,000,000 raised by the completion of our main building is both practical and reachable with congregational and individual support!

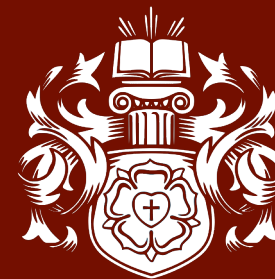

Luther Classical College educates Lutherans in the classical, Lutheran tradition and prepares them for godly vocations within family, church, and society, fostering Christian culture through study of the best of our Western heritage.

Why now?

*C*onservative Lutherans have been asking for a classical Lutheran college for decades. And though classical colleges have popped up all around the country and have been very successful, not one has been Lutheran.

*A*s American culture continues to slide, we need a college that purposefully emphasizes and instills Christian culture throughout its curriculum.

*G*iven the political climate in our country, we need a college that does not depend on federal funds and which is still affordable for our youth.

Why congregations?

*L*uther Classical College exists to educate young men and women for congregational life, so that they graduate eager to support their local congregations and raise their families in the church.

We believe direct congregational support and involvement will help keep the college Lutheran and focused on its goal, which is to strengthen our congregations with committed Lutheran families.

Why Casper, WY?

*C*asper, WY is an ideal place for the first Lutheran classical college. Besides having two thriving and growing, faithful and conservative LCMS congregations, it has an excellent classical Lutheran grade school and high school. This congregational environment will help keep the college grounded in what is important – family and congregational life.

The Wyoming District of the LCMS has many classical schools and is extremely supportive of this endeavor.

*C*asper, neither too big nor too small (about 60,000), has all the amenities a college needs.

*M*ount Hope Lutheran Church has 11 acres perfect for a small college campus.

*F*or those who wish to pursue a trade, Luther Classical College is working with Casper College to offer a collaborative A.A., with some classes taken at the community college and core classes in Bible, history, and literature taken at Luther Classical College.

How much does a supporting congregation give?

*W*ith 35 supporting congregations as of May, our congregations give an average of $3,000 per year, some more and some less according to their ability and circumstance. We welcome and are thankful for any amount that fits within your budget!

Why four years of support?

*P*ledging four years of support will help the congregation see and be involved in the college's growth in these first exciting years.

*P*ledging four years of support gives the college the ability to set its budget more firmly and go forward with the building needed before classes can start.

What is Luther Classical College's connection with the LCMS?

*O*ur Board of Regents is made up of all LCMS members, we are sponsored by LCMS congregations, we were incorporated by an LCMS church, our campus is being built on the campus of an LCMS congregation, and our professors will all be LCMS Lutherans.

We have the full support of the Wyoming District of the LCMS, are under the ecclesiastical supervision of its District President, and are working in collaboration with LCMS RSOs like Wittenberg Academy and CCLE.
